Position Title:	Community Resilience Coach (Excluded Position)
Hours:	Part time – 4 hours/week
Starting Date:	ASAP
Term:	15 months
Salary:	$50.00 per hour

Are you passionate about supporting frontline workers and first responders who are impacted by the overdose crisis? Do you believe in the power of connection, education, and resilience-building? We're looking for a compassionate and community-minded individual to join our team as a Community Resilience Coach.

As a Community Resilience Coach, you'll play a key role in strengthening the wellbeing of those working on the front lines of the overdose crisis. This is a dynamic and relationship-centered position focused on offering support, education, and tools to reduce burnout and foster resilience in those who respond to crisis every day.

This is a chance to make a real impact by supporting those who care for others. You'll work within a passionate team committed to health equity, harm reduction, and community-based care. Together, we can build a more resilient frontline.

The Successful Candidate:

- Engage with and support first responders, peer support workers, and frontline staff
- Deliver trauma-informed training and educational sessions on resilience, wellness, and stress management
- Facilitate group programming such as peer debriefing, reflective practice, and wellness circles
- Coordinate care and referrals with community agencies and support services
- Assess needs and co-create solutions that strengthen local response capacity
- Help build a culture of care, collaboration, and sustainability in overdose response work
